The app can't tell the difference between you and other drivers, but you can go into the app and delete tracked trips from when another driver was behind the wheel. #2 - Will the Allstate Drivewise app drain your phone battery? How Allstate Drivewise affects your phone battery through the Allstate mobile app will depend on your phone, its settings, and other individual factors. However, your phone's battery will probably drain faster when the app is on - and enabled than when it's not because it is connected to your GPS for tracking. #3 - Can I use Drivewise on other devices? You can, but this can be complicated because of the rules surrounding how many devices can have active versions of the app at the same time. If you enable Drivewise on your phone and then switch to your tablet, the phone version will be deactivated because the app only allows you to have an active version of Drivewise on one device at a time.
